POLICY

Clover Park Technical College refrains from providing any commission, bonus or other incentive payment based directly or indirectly on securing enrollment or federal financial aid, including Tuition Assistance funds, to any persons or entities engaged in any student recruitment, admissions activities, or making decisions regarding the award of student financial assistance.

The college also refrains from high-pressure recruitment tactics for the purposes of securing service member enrollments.

Clover Park Technical College does not offer commissions, bonuses, or other incentives to staff or organizations based on enrolling students or helping students receive financial aid and/or veterans' benefits.

The college is committed to ethical and respectful recruitment. We do not use high-pressure or aggressive practices when working with service members, veterans, or their families. This includes repeated unsolicited contact, pressuring students to enroll quickly, or discouraging them from considering other options.
