Draft Trustee “End Results” Policy

CPTC exists to equitably prepare an increasingly diverse community with credentials, knowledge, and skills that enable graduates to afford to thrive in Pierce County. This is done in an environment of belonging and in a manner that demonstrates wise and sustainable stewardship of resources.

1) An increasing number of students complete degrees and obtain industry recognized credentials on time and at equitable rates across demographic groups.

2) Employees are equity-minded and equipped to serve a diverse student body.

3) CPTC is easy to access, responsive, and inclusive; especially for people of color, low income, and second-language learners.

4) Students are “held tightly” from the moment they enroll and are supported until they have reached their goal.

5) A culture and environment exist where community dialogue, transformation, and reconciliation occur.

6) Staff, faculty, and administration reflect the demographics of the students we serve.

7) Graduates experience a positive and equitable return on their educational investment.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY
BOARD OF TRUSTEES PRESENTATION
Introduction: National Landscape

- 40% of all undergraduates in the U.S. are enrolled in community and technical colleges (Ma & Baum, 2015).
- 3.9 million students enrolled in career training programs nation-wide (ACTE, 2014).
- < 800 thousand certs/associate’s degrees awarded (AACC, 2017).
- 71% increase in the number of students earning a certificate or associates degree from 2002 to 2012 (ACTE, 2020).

Your Future. Our Focus.
Introduction: Washington State Landscape

• < 219,000 state Community & Technical College (CTC) students (SBCTC, 2020).

• < 88,000 state students in career training programs (SBCTC, 2020).

• 20.5 billion annual contribution to state economy (SBCTC, 2020).

• 47% state CTC students are students of color (SBCTC, 2020).

• 38% state CTC students receive need-based aid (SBCTC, 2020).

Your Future. Our Focus.
Background

• For technical college students in Washington state, the selection of a program of study is the first decision they make.

• Career-choice decisions have long-term impacts on job prospects, marketability, and wage-earnings potential (Baker et al., 2018; Berger, 1988; Beffy et al., 2012; Stevens et al., 2015).

• In the case of technical programs and colleges, job placement and post-completion earnings are central to mission fulfillment, meeting student expectations, and student upward mobility (Stevens et al., 2015).
Purpose of the Study

The purpose of this quantitative study was to determine if student sociodemographics influence the selection of a career training program with varying wage-earning potentials in Washington State technical colleges.
Research Questions

1) What is the relationship between age, economic disadvantage, prior college credits, sex, race/ethnicity, veteran status, and students’ choice of career training program in Washington State technical colleges?

2) To what extent does the impact vary for historically underserved groups such as economically disadvantaged students, students of color, and student veterans?
Review of Literature

- Sociodemographic Factors
  - (Age ∙ Sex ∙ Family Status ∙ Race/Ethnicity)

- Career Factors
  - (Interest ∙ Ability ∙ Future Earnings ∙ Marketability)

- Institutional Factors
  - (Availability of Program ∙ Faculty & Program Reputation)

- Interpersonal Factors
  - (Family ∙ Peers ∙ Teachers ∙ Counselors)

Theoretical Framework

Research Methods

• Quantitative correlational methodology.
• Correlational designs are procedures in quantitative research in which investigators measure the degree of association or relationship between the independent (predictor) variables student sociodemographics and dependent (outcome) variable (student wage-earning potential) (Creswell, 2015).
• A statistical correlation test (ordinal logistic regression) was used to describe and measure the degree of association between these variables (Creswell, 2015).
Research Hypotheses

Null Hypothesis: There is no relationship between sociodemographics and career training program selection among Washington State technical college students.

Hypothesis One: Students of color are more likely to select a lower wage-earning career training program of study in Washington State technical college students.

Hypothesis Two: Economically disadvantaged students are more likely to select a lower wage-earning career training program of study in Washington State technical colleges.

Hypothesis Three: Women are more likely to select a lower wage-earning career training program of study in Washington State technical colleges.
Data Source and Sample

- The research design employed utilized a quantitative statistical analysis of secondary data provided by the Washington State Board for Community & Technical Colleges (SBCTC).
- Sample of entering students from the five technical colleges:
  - Bates Technical College
  - Bellingham Technical College
  - Clover Park Technical College
  - Lake Washington Institute of Technology
  - Renton Technical College
- 2017, 2018, 2019 entering fall students.
- Sample size ~30,000 (unduplicated headcount with valid program code).

Number of Observations 30,258

Notes. Reference groups: 40-over, non-economic disadvantage, no prior credits, white, male, non-veterans. * p < .05
Summary of Findings

• The odds of choosing a low wage-earning career rather than a high wage-earning career increase by a factor of 1.136 and 1.012 respectively for students aged 0-19 and 20-24 vs the reference age group (40-Over) ($p < .05$).

• The odds of choosing a low or median wage-earning career increase by a factor of 1.190 for economically disadvantaged groups vs non-economically disadvantaged groups ($p < .05$).

• The odds of choosing a low wage-earning career is statistically higher for all students of color compared to their White counterparts ($p < .05$).

• The odds of females choosing a low wage-earning career increases by a factor of 1.735 when compared with males ($p < .05$).

• The odds of choosing a low or medium wage-earning career increase by a factor of 1.521 for veterans vs non-veterans ($p < .05$).
Discussion

• Historically underserved student groups matriculate into low or medium wage-earning majors.
• This research addresses, in part, a gap in the literature and affirms observed student decision-making behaviors in four-year environments.
• Call for equity-minded approach to ensure targeted CTE students’ access to information and resources, academic preparedness and aspiration, and self-efficacy beliefs.
Application to Professional Practice

• Technical college students declare a major prior to enrollment and most colleges offer admissions counseling in the entry process.
• Additional support and career exploration is needed for historically underserved students in the entry process.
  • Available resources and student referrals.
  • Career pathways, outcomes, and post-completion earnings
• Examine how we advise students (equity-minded approach).
• 19.7% of programs lead to a high wage-earning career.
Implications for Future Research

• Replicate study examining “traditional” community college students in transfer pathways.

• Qualitative research to determine why students are making the choices they are making.

• Address limitations: high school completion and high school grade point average.

President’s Report
Shared Governance Update
The College has been in the process of changing its shared governance model from Cabinet and College Assembly to a modified model. There are two key elements to the new structure:
• It is comprised of five councils that will engage people from across campus in work related to policies/practices impacting our College:
  o College Council
  o Learning Council
  o Student Success Council
  o EDI Council
  o Sustainability Council
• Faculty and Staff Senates
  o Advice and consent bodies, broadly comprised of faculty or staff
  o Discuss matters of importance that do not fall under union categories

Upcoming Events

Strengthening Community Zoom meeting on June 10

• One item will be the culmination of the CPTC Foundation’s Giving Campaign. The winner of the CPTC 500 Race will be revealed. Racing legend Derek Cope was part of the campaign.
• The Annual Faculty and Staff Excellence Awards will be presented.

Drive-by Graduation Recognition

• Tuesday, June 22, from 4-6 p.m. on the Lakewood campus.

Miscellaneous

Policy 3.28. Some of the language has been updated, there was no change in substance, and it will be given to Chair Taylor for signature.

WACTC Meeting

ctcLink Funding

• As a result of COVID, enrollment across the state has experienced a decline. Reduced tuition collection at the colleges has resulted in a shortfall of ctcLink funding as well. Colleges will be assessed on July 1 for a part of the loss, and CPTC’s amount will be $183,000.
• It was also determined that Running Start and International students will be included in future calculations for the funding returned to the SBCTC to cover the cost of ctcLink staffing. CPTC’s annual portion is estimated to be $18,000.

Capital Projects Submission
All colleges will have an opportunity to submit a new capital project request this December.

Congratulations
President Loveday congratulated Cal Erwin-Svoboda, who was selected as Vice President for Student Services at Grays Harbor College. He has done great work for CPTC in the Student Life Department for the last eight years.

College Reports or Highlights

ASG Report (Tab 2)
Becky White, who serves on the ASG Events and Activities Committee, gave the attached report. After the report, Chair Taylor thanked the team of ASG officers for keeping the Board and college community apprised of programs, ASG business, advocacy, civic action, and fostering a sense of belonging amongst students, especially during COVID times. The Board honored them with a token of appreciation. The outgoing committee chairs are:

- Becky White, Events and Activities
- Melanie Stone, Diversity and Inclusion
- Owen Zhu, Health & Wellness
- Shannon Mathis, Student Success
- Payton Tarver, Civic Engagement

Instruction Report – HVAC/R (Tab 3)
Dr. Korschinowski introduced two HVAC/Refrigeration faculty members, Tom Bean and Richard Barton. In 2019, a team took advantage of a funding opportunity, Career Launch. The goal is to grow the program by 25 FTEs. The program moved to a larger lab and hired additional faculty. The faculty talked about how the funding was implemented and gave a virtual tour of the facilities and new equipment.

Trustee Mitchell asked if the College had thought about partnerships with low-income households that might use the services of CPTC students. Mr. Barton said they would be interested in considering partnering with a non-profit to provide services to low-income individuals who could not afford the services otherwise.

Chair’s Report
- Chair Taylor thanked Mr. Erwin-Svoboda for all he has done for students at CPTC. It’s nice when faculty and staff have good things to say about an employee, but it is so much more impactful when students are a testament to you. Congratulations, again.
- Chair Taylor needed to call a repairman for his home. The technician was a former CPTC student, and he had amazing things to say about CPTC and the campus. It reminded Chair Taylor why he serves on the Board, the great team at CPTC, how we made it through a trying year, and he thanked all the front-line workers for all they do for students.

Board Reports and/or Remarks
Trustee Mitchell:
- Congratulated the College on a new shared governance system and noted that it can be perfected as it is used.
- Said she went to high school with Derek Cope, and he is an amazing individual.
- Wants to attend the Drive-by Graduation Celebration.
- Thanked Mr. Erwin-Svoboda for all he has done and stated he is leaving big shoes to fill.
- Invited everyone to the Freedom Summer Symposium, June 28-30. More information is available at: FREEDOM SUMMER SYMPOSIUM (instituteforblackjustice.org). The point is to generate excitement among 18-35 year olds about leading the social justice movement.

Trustee Phillips:
- Is still learning about CPTC and is overly impressed with everyone in the organization.
- Has experience with the simulators (discussed in the HVAC/R presentation), on the power side. It is such an amazing tool and will give students an advantage in the trade. The simulators are immeasurable in their ability to teach real-life situations.

Amanda Gorman is making history.

Only a few months after the poet and activist became a national obsession thanks to the reading of her poem “The Hill We Climb” at the inauguration of President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris, Gorman, 23, has landed the cover of Vogue, shot by famed photographer Annie Leibovitz.

Bossi’s take: Keep in mind that the caveat here is that Marcus Carr is going to check his NBA Draft status first. Also, the high scoring Canadian who has shown he can put a team on his back late is likely going to limit the schools he considers to a very select few. But, a guy with his experience, his proven ability to go out and make game winning plays against Big Ten competition is going to be in demand.

Schools are going to have to ask themselves if going after him is worth the risk of missing out on others and Carr potentially choosing to go pro. But, that gamble could ultimately pay off huge if Carr elects to play college ball in 2021-22. Should he end up in college, it isn’t difficult to see him putting up big numbers at a blue blood.
The college, a complex of low-slung buildings surrounded by cottonwood trees, occupies a remote corner of the high desert, roughly 20 miles from the Nevada border. Framed by volcanic peaks, rock towers and sagebrush-studded alluvial fans, the area is the very definition of “remote.”
